PKF Lawyers continuing a tradition of trust, care

PKF Lawyers is a legal firm with a long history here in southern Manitoba.

It is one of the province's top law firms, having been established back in 1924. Its Morden location also has an equally storied history that includes having formerly been operated by long-time local lawyer Gordon Hoeschen.

"This firm has a long-standing reputation within the community ... and a number of lawyers who have gone on to become judges," said lawyer Stéphane Warnock. "There's a lot of highly respected individuals who have done a lot for and within the community. It's a humbling experience to be part of such a long-standing tradition."

As Manitoba has grown more culturally and ethnically diverse, PKF Lawyers has as well.

"The firm has grown across Manitoba with eight office locations," Warnock said. "And we offer services in nine different languages right now. It's always kind of fluctuating."

"We are a full service firm. We are kind of a one-stop shop with probably about 30 lawyers, and that number fluctuates as well," he added. "We strive to deliver trustworthy, expert, real-world results for our clients."

Whether you need a lawyer to help with an adoption, a civil litigation case, or corporate law, PKF's law offices in Winnipeg, Morden, Winkler, Selkirk, and Carman are deeply rooted in the communities and treat each client like family.

Some of the most common practice areas PKF Lawyers offer expertise in includes bankruptcy and insolvency, civil litigation, corporate and commercial contracts, real estate, construction disputes and liens, domestic and family law, immigration, mediation and arbitration, personal injury and wills, estates and trusts.

"We do a lot of farm tax planning and deal with a lot of farmers and farm corporations," noted Warnock, who is from Morden and primarily focuses on estate planning, business advising, and tax law.

Within the overall firm, they will have people with experience in all fields of law, so it gives them a significant advantage to serve their clients.

"It's been incredibly helpful for me personally just having that kind of mentorship and all of that experience to rely on," said Warnock. "There is always somebody who has an answer. We have a firm where everybody communicates really well, and it is easy to ask those questions to ensure that the client's needs are met."

"Trust is so important. We want people to know and trust us. We have strong values that underpin our commitment to do good work and help people," he concluded. "We want to continue to be able to deliver the same great service."
